STUDENTS IN THE MINISTRY

DAVID HASAN

LINDA MUHAMMAD

JOSEPH MUHAMMAD

SUMMARY

This powerful Sunday lecture features three dynamic student ministers delivering insightful teachings rooted in the message of the Most Honorable Elijah Muhammad under the guidance of the Honorable Minister Louis Farrakhan.

Student Minister David Hasan opens with a message on discipline, self-examination, and the transformative power of Islam as a way of life. He emphasizes that true peace, order, and success come from submitting to God's will and applying divine teachings in everyday life.

Student Minister Linda Muhammad follows with a deeply reflective message on the role of the "Comforter," presenting Minister Farrakhan as a guide, teacher, and divine helper for this modern time. Her message highlights spiritual continuity, scripture fulfillment, and the importance of recognizing divine guidance today.

The keynote message by Student Minister Joseph Muhammad builds on this foundation with a powerful teaching titled "Who Do They Say I Am?" Drawing parallels between the historical Jesus and Minister Farrakhan, he challenges the audience to examine their understanding, deepen their faith, and commit to personal growth through self-improvement and study.

In this lecture:

- The benefits of Islam as a scientific and transformative way of life
- The importance of discipline, self-analysis, and personal responsibility
- The role of Minister Farrakhan as a modern guide and comforter
- The connection between scripture and present-day reality
- A call to self-improvement as the basis for community development

(Five Questions & Answers)

1. What does Student Minister David Hasan teach about the definition of Islam?

Answer: Islam is described as an “absolute science” and the natural way of life for human beings, centered on submission to God’s will.

2. How does he explain the current condition of the world?

Answer: He teaches that the chaos and confusion in the world come from people not following the will of God, and that this disorder is part of the breaking down of an old world to bring in a new one.

3. What role does self-examination play in spiritual growth?

Answer: Self-examination, self-analysis, and self-correction are necessary steps for growth, allowing individuals to evolve and find solutions to life’s problems.

4. Why does he emphasize discipline?

Answer: Discipline is essential because it connects words with actions and is necessary in areas like speech, diet, finances, and relationships; without discipline, there can be no true love.

5. What is the key practical message from his lecture?

Answer: The key message is that believers must actively apply God’s teachings in daily life—through discipline, gratitude, and obedience—to achieve peace, purpose, and real results.
